

The Fintech Council has called

April 2, 2019

Press release

The Fintech Council of the Federal Ministry of Finance got a new member. Since March this year, Miriam Wohlfarth has been one of the 29 experts on digitisation issues in the financial market. The members advise the Ministry and the Federal Government on current topics such as AI, cloud computing and data protection. This not only contributes to a better understanding of technological developments, opportunities and risks, but also makes a major contribution to strengthening Germany as a financial location.

For more information click here.